Your (50% correct) Predictions for the Year MMV

By Dave Tompkins

Aries (March 21 – April 19)
You’ve always been spontaneous and impulsive, but you’ll bring it to new heights this year when you strip in public because your clothes are “chaffing”.

Taurus (April 20 – May 20)
You have a clear preference for staying in one place, and now with internet shopping, you can finally embrace your agoraphobia and stay at home.

Gemini (May 21 – June 21)
You’ve always been particularly given to surprising transformations of the self, but even you’ll freak out when you molt and completely shed your skin.

Cancer (June 22 – July 22)
You tend toward caution and often act prudently, but are you truly living? We say, take down your mental safety net and go for it – You know what we mean.

Leo (July 23 – Aug. 22)
You embody a sustained emotional warmth and loyalty that is not likely to change over time, so you can basically be replaced by a big sloppy dog.

Virgo (Aug. 23 – Sept. 22)
You’re often irresistibly drawn toward the shifting play of ideas and thought, and if you keep talking like that, mean kids will beat you up during recess.

Libra (Sep. 23 – Oct. 23)
You’re particularly assertive on the intellectual level, quick to advance and defend your ideas. Wow. This may actually mean you’re ready to graduate. Huh.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 – Nov. 21)
You exhibit an unshakable self-confidence that remains firm in the face of adversity. But the only adversity you face day-to-day is the bad weather.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 – Dec. 21)
It’s in your nature to eternally quest after something new. You’re so difficult to predict that we’ve given up. Here’s a gift certificate for one horoscope.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 – Jan. 19)
You take solid, dependable actions that are often geared toward material success. You’re just sooo practical you make us sick. Try gambling this year.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 – Feb. 18)
You trust radish thinking and extend deep roots into the ideas they hold. So lots of salads and tuna dons for you. Oops… sorry – we meant rational thinking.

Pisces (Feb. 19 – March 20)
You’re sensitive to the smallest alterations of feelings. Golly you’re a wimp. We’d tell you your real horoscope but we don’t want to make you cry.
