"To whom it may concern!

Berlin, 11th of Oct. 2006

We confirm the cooperation of Nationale DFB Kulturstiftung WM 2006 with Harun Farocki Filmproduktion for the documentary project "Football" of Harun Farocki.

The result will be a detailed analysis of the FIFA World Cup Final 2006™ that took place in Berlin, 9th of July, 2006.

The large-scale, multi-channel video installation will highlight football and the FIFA World Cup 2006™. The art piece will premiere and play an important role in the upcoming documenta 12, the world's largest exhibition of modern art, taking place in Kassel (Germany) from June 16, 2007 through September 23, 2007.

The efforts of Harun Farocki and his assistant, Matthias Rajmann, take place in fully agreement with Nationale DFB Kulturstiftung WM 2006.

At large it will be an opportunity to make possible a new work by Harun Farocki, one of the most critically acclaimed German filmmakers. He has made over ninety dramatic and non-fiction films since the mid-'60s and his distinctive body of work has been influential in contemporary cinema as well as art.

We kindly ask any public or private body or institution to support the project "Football" carried out by Harun Farocki and Matthias Rajmann in which ever way may be suitable."
