

HOROSCOPES & HUMOUR

By Dave Tompkins

THE “GRAD STUDENT IRRATIONAL FEARS AND DISEASES” ISSUE

ARIES (March 21 – April 19)

You suffer from litreviewaphobia, which is the fear that if you read too many articles related to your thesis you're going to realise it's not very original.

TAURUS (April 20 – May 20)

You have a mild case of badhoroscopaphobia and are suffering from it right now: Every time you read a horoscope you fear it's going to be bad news.

GEMINI (May 21 – June 21)

You have a split personality disease: always switching between your lowly student persona and the persona that insists you're practically faculty.

CANCER (June 22 – July 22)

You have thesis cancer (thesamona): Bad results or incorrect conclusions you can't ignore that are slowly eating away at and destroying your thesis.

LEO (July 23 – Aug. 22)

You have peaktoosoonaphobia: you fear that your prime years are behind you, and that your mental capacity is diminishing daily. Sadly, you're right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 – Sep. 22)

You suffer from publishophobia: the fear that as soon as you produce results you will be judged by your peers and they will realise that you're an idiot.

LIBRA (Sep. 23 – Oct. 23)

You have realworldophobia, meaning you fear the pressure of succeeding in the real world to the point where the academic cocoon seems too safe to leave.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 – Nov. 21)

You have procrastinitis: a near-fatal academic disease. If you happen to be reading this horoscope on-line, it's twice as bad... and fatal if you wrote it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 – Dec. 21)

You suffer from importomania: the delusion that your research is important to your community and may actually make the world a better place.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 – Jan. 19)

You have snobitis, an academic social disease that artificially inflates your self-worth: making you think you're better than the undereducated masses.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 – Feb. 18)

You suffer from some kind of addiction: You know that we're right, and you know you're addicted, and that it's a problem. So get some help already.

PISCES (Feb. 19 – March 20)

You have perfectionitis: a virus that forces you to spend time sweating over tiny insignificant details in your work. It's often caught from supervisors.